Nobody is too young or too old to tell Google why they should pick the Pittsfield-Saline Area in their country-wide competition.
Describe how a ramped up broad band internet connection would change your way of life.

What would you do with an internet connection that is 100 times faster?
Would you work from home and shrink your carbon footprint?
Would you start a business? Research a cure for a rare disease?
Would you take the next step in your dream to become a filmmaker?
Would you compose a symphony and share it with the world?
How much time and money could you save? And what would that make possible?

This is our big chance to convince Google that investing here is the perfect place to showcase how ultra high speed broadband can transform the day-to-day lives of regular Americans.
